

14th June 2012

Dear Gurumayi,

A very special Happy Birthday for 2012 from over here in Sydney, Australia!

It has been a very long time since I was in your physical presence. And even though it was way back in 1997, you are always alive in my heart. My experiences of 1997 have sustained me and enrich my life every day!

I wanted to send you a gift and offering for this special year 2012.

As you know, I wrote a song for you, "I know I am" back in 1993. The ashram residents performed this song for you on the 25th March 1997 at the ashram. You then requested that we perform it again in the Hall when you made a surprise visit to the Ashram on my Birthday, 1st April 1997.

After you left Australia, we recorded the song. I also produced a special package and compiled the other songs of the Tour. We also had the Siddha Yoga community from all around Australia become involved in the gift by singing the chorus of one of the songs. (I sent this gift of the song to you for your Birthday on the 24th June 1997.) You subsequently invited me to visit Shree Muktananda Ashram, which I did later in that year.

The experience was truly profound and extraordinary and lingers strongly in my being!

As you know, the song, "I know I am", which I performed for you in 1997, ultimately became the theme song of the music CD in the Soft Diamond Light package that I sent to you last year. The reviews suggest the package emanates a powerful electromagnetic field. It was created to activate and clean the inner atmosphere of your home or office and empower your inspired intuitive intelligence with a new science of manifestation! The vision of Soft Diamond Light is to create a world of peace and prosperity for everyone on the planet. (I attach some reviews under the headings: a talisman of power; an artwork production, the book & the music.)

In 2006 I co-wrote nearly 20 songs based on the "Meditations" in my book, Soft Diamond Light, Only love matters". One of these songs was based on a specific meditation, "Beyond the Bounds of Limitlessness" in the book. When I listened to it I felt it called out to you and resonated from within my heart as "another song" for you! I have called it, "We Become Everything". (While the recording was only done as a live, simple demo with no music, recorded at home on a digital camera it had a special "vibe" to it and so with a little help from my friends, we did a cut and paste edit to extend the vocals, and then added some piano, harp and strings.)

As it evolved, I also decided to produce a DVD of the song, "We Become Everything" for your Birthday celebrations. I created a movie in the form of a "wish", a "longing" and a "love" based on something you said in 1997. (Maybe when you return to the Sydney Ashram we can all sing it for you, just like we did in 1997.)

Producing this gift for you has been a truly wonderful experience. In an enjoyable, real and loving way it has enriched the deep connection in my heart with you. Creating the gift has allowed me to feel I am making a tangible, heart-felt link with you. (I hope you enjoy it.)

I still love doing the Guru Gita and I have been inspired to meditate more each day.

Once again, I wish you a most blessed and blissful Happy Birthday!!

With my deepest love & respect,

Sadgurunath Maharaj Ki Jay!
